been so different. Agnes loves being a Believer. She knows the rules at the Mount Blessing religious commune are there to make her a better person. Honey hates Mount Blessing and the control Emmanuel, their leader, has over her life. The only bright spot is the butterfly garden she's helping to build, and the journal of butterflies that she keeps. When Agnes's grandmother makes an unexpected visit to the commune, she discovers a violent secret that the Believers are desperate to keep quiet. And when Agnes's little brother is seriously injured and Emmanuel refuses to send him to a hospital, Nana Pete takes the three children and escapes the commune. Their journey begins an exploration of faith, friendship, religion and family for the two girls, as Agnes clings to her familiar faith while Honey desperately wants a new future.

Inch spends his life mistakenly believing he's a gifted writer after misunderstanding his third-grade teacher's intentions. As he struggles to find his way in the world of adults, he decides to live up to his third-grade potential and enroll in Professor Jud Roy Lebowitz's creative writing class. There, Inch meets an incredible cast of characters, including beautiful Peppy Zipline, dowdy intellectual Leslie Tomatiny, and self-proclaimed "goddess" Dino Quiet-Room. Each woman, along with Professor Lebowitz, impacts the narcissistic young Inch in a different way, ultimately setting off a chain of utterly bizarre and surprising events that will keep readers in stitches. Hilarious and unexpected, An Inch in Time doesn't just explore the awkwardness of human relationships and interactions-it celebrates them in all of their strange forms and phases.
