This book defines and explains the operation of the defence of change of position in Anglo-Australian law. It is a widely accepted view that the defence is a modern development, the first express recognition of which can be traced in England to the seminal decision of the House of Lords in Lipkin Gorman (a firm) v Karpnale Ltd. Commentators have accordingly tended to focus on post-Lipkin case law in discussing the defence and its many disputed features. This work takes a different stance, arguing that the defence is best understood by placing it within its broader historical and legal context. It explains that the foundations of the defence can be found in the related doctrines of estoppel by representation, the agent's defence of payment over and the law of rescission. The analysis applies crucial insights from those areas, together with the change of position authorities and broader considerations of policy and principle, to develop a rigorous model of the change of position defence. The work not only provides a clear and exhaustive examination of the defence, but demonstrates that, properly understood, the defence operates in a rational and justifiable manner within its broader private law context. In so doing, its analysis meets the oft-expressed concern that the defence may operate in an unprincipled way or by reference to 'that vague jurisprudence which is sometimes attractively styled "justice as between man and man"'.

"The term 'air traffic services' ... {is} a generic term meaning variously flight information service, alerting service, air traffic advisory service, air traffic control service, area control service, approach control service or aerodrome control service" -- p.I-1-1-1.

This book focuses on preparing the user to pass the associated Microsoft Office User Specialist (MOUS) certification exam. Its step-by-step tutorials show how to complete the required procedures in a clear, concise, and direct manner. The tutorials are organized to match the order of the skill sets and skills being measured as published on Microsoft's MOUS website. Skill sets include creating and using databases; creating and modifying tables, queries, and forms; viewing and organizing information; integrating with other applications; producing reports; defining relationships; operating Access on the web; using Access tools; and creating database applications. For MOUS Certification.

Working Papers (prepared by John J. Wild) are available to help direct students in solving all assignments. Each chapter contains one set of papers that can be used for either the A or B series of problems.
