The Family Child Care Mileage-Keeper is designed to make it easy for you to track your vehicle expenses for your family child care (daycare) business. Using the Mileage-Keeper properly will satisfy the record-keeping requirements of the IRS. You may claim business mileage for all trips in which the "primary purpose" of your trip is business. You must keep a written record of all these business trips. Such records can include receipts, canceled checks, bank deposit slips, field trip permission forms, photos, and notations on a calendar. Or you can simplify your mileage record keeping by tracking all your business trips in the Mileage-Keeper. Keep it in your vehicle and use it to record every business trip, calculate vehicle expenses, and track mileage and travel details.

Figuring depreciation can be the most difficult aspect of filing tax returns for a family child care program. This inventory log for family child care programs is designed to assist in keeping track of the furniture, appliances, and other property used in the child care business; once these items have been identified, they can be deducted as business expenses on income tax forms. The Inventory-Keeper log provides the information needed to claim depreciation deductions for items purchased before the business began and items bought after the business began. The log can also be used for insurance purposes if any items are stolen or destroyed. The log's introduction details the step-by-step procedure for completing the inventory forms, and provides suggestions for determining the fair market value of items; delineates the rules for claiming business expenses on tax returns; and provides other tips for inventory such as maintaining a photograph or videotape record of items. The log next presents detailed, room-by-room listings of potential items, with space available for recording relevant information. A section is included for listing home, home improvements, and land improvements. The log concludes with a sample list of strictly personal items and separate tables for those items. (KB)

Helps new and established family child care providers give their business solid footing for the future.

For home-based family child care (daycare) providers, taking care of the children is only half of the job. The other half is taking care of the business—tracking expenses, being profitable, filing taxes, and meeting government requirements. This resource covers everything family child care providers need to keep accurate business records. If a family child care provider pays close attention to the recommendations in this book, he or she will be able to claim the maximum allowable deductions and pay the lowest possible federal taxes. Since the previous edition of Family Child Care Record-Keeping Guide, Congress and the IRS have made many changes to tax rules that affect family child care providers. There have been changes in depreciation rules, adjustments to food and mileage rates, and clarifications on how to calculate the Time-Space percentage. Author Tom Copeland has been involved in many IRS audits and represented providers in several Tax Court cases that have also clarified numerous rules. Further necessitating this ninth edition, the IRS issued two significant new rules in 2013. These updates, new rules, and clarifications are detailed in this book; all of the information is applicable to child care providers in every state, regardless of local regulations. Tom Copeland, is a writer, trainer, lawyer, and consultant focusing on family child care business issues. He has conducted record-keeping, tax preparation, and business workshops for family child care providers across the country since 1981.
