"Now what am I going to do?" is a question many people ask—and leave unanswered—at critical potential turning points in their careers. Perhaps you're a new graduate, but instead of lining up for a boring entry-level job at a big corporation, you wish you could start your own sustainable and responsible business. Or maybe you've been stuck in a job you hate for a few years, but you still dream of doing the thing you love and that you're actually good at. Or maybe you're a boomer and you're ready for a second career, a personal venture that will represent a total change from what you've spent most of your work life doing. Whatever your situation, this is the book to help you get started. Finding the Sweet Spot explains how sustainable, responsible, and joyful natural enterprises differ from most jobs, and it provides the framework for building your own natural enterprise. You'll learn how to find partners who will help make your venture successful, how to do world-class market research, how to innovate, how to build resilience into your enterprise, and how to avoid the land mines that sink so many small businesses. Most importantly, you'll learn how to find the "sweet spot" where your gifts, your passions, and your purpose intersect. And make no mistake: our world needs your talent. The current economic system and the educational system that feeds into it have let us down and are destroying our planet. We need a blossoming of natural enterprises—connected, collaborating, and supporting ventures—to form a dynamic new natural economy. Is such a thing possible? Inventor, entrepreneur, and humanist Buckminster Fuller said: "You never change things by fighting the existing reality. To change something, build a new model that makes the existing model obsolete." Finding the Sweet Spot presents a new model. Use it to find the work you were meant to do, thereby helping to create the world we're meant to live—and make a living—in.

Reviews "A self-help book like no other: soul-stirring, thought provoking, an unapologetic account of what brings you down and how to get back up." Rajdeep Sardesai Journalist & Author "A breath of fresh air in self-help genre; deep yet funny; revolutionary and driven by real life situations." Amanpreet Bajaj Fortune 40 Under 40 & Country Manager – Airbnb "If you feel stuck where you are, this compelling text will be the catalyst to get you moving, nay sprinting!...in Life." Abhishek Mishra Ultraman & Ironman From The Back Cover The Probability of your parents meeting: one in a million. The Chance that they had you and not another genetic version of you: one in 4 million billion. The Number of moments you have lived in your lifetime: ~9.4 million. You, Yes YOU are a miracle. Do you not then deserve to lead a miraculous life? A life that is meaningful to you, that doesn't leave you feeling like you are running and running, but not knowing where to, and why so. So go on, give yourself and your life the best shot. How? By ceasing this race to 'somewhere' for just a few hours; Re-discovering Your Real Self, Re-aligning Your Thoughts, Revamping Your Life This book is written for all of us, whether you're just starting out your life or wishing to change it.

Join the hunt to find lovable puppy, Spot, in Eric Hill's first ever lift-the-flap tale! Lift each flap to find all sorts of funny animal surprises, before discovering where cheeky Spot has been hiding. This is the perfect first book for little ones - the playful text is a wonderful spur to read and respond together, and the hide-and-seek flaps encourage curiosity and interactivity. This is a special anniversary edition of this much-loved classic to celebrate 40 years since the first publication of Where's Spot?.

Invites readers to find the seven differences between the animal-themed pictures presented side-by-side and includes a riddle for each one.

A vibrant and playful seek-and-find picture book by the acclaimed Swedish artist and designer Laura Ljungkvist, in which the reader uncovers animals hidden in a dazzling array of patterns and colors. The artwork, inspired by a European aesthetic, gives this work a simple, but sophisticated look that appeals to both children and adults. Animals are cleverly concealed as each page provides a new challenge for the reader to discover. An artful and unique book for children who love Where's Waldo and Walter Wick.
