In Full Dark, No Stars, we get four dark tales filled with murder, revenge,

I am reviewing FULL STARS, NO DARK, which is a compendium of stories. The first one, 1922, is very good, and can be read as a non supernatural tale. The second BIG DRIVER is very gripping, but falls down at the end (again, not supernatural). The rest are just the usual supernatural bilge, so I don't know why I am giving it 3 stars really.

'I believe there is another man inside every man, a stranger...' writes Wilfred Leland James in the early pages of the riveting confession that makes up '1922', the first in this pitch-black quartet of mesmerising tales from Stephen King, linked by the theme of retribution. For James, that stranger is awakened when his wife Arlette proposes selling off the family homestead and moving to Omaha, setting in motion a gruesome train of murder and madness. In 'Big the vicious, out-of-control nightmares, for starters. And how is he able to explain the fact that everyone connected to George Stark's untimely demise is now meeting a brutal end of their own in a pattern of
