When will enough be enough? After the show down with her mother Karma is left hospitalized and pregnant with a man claiming to be her father making an appearance. But is he who he says he is? Why did he leave his daughter at the mercy of the crazy woman she called mother? Cato is offered the opportunity of a life time by this man that Karma is supposed to know as father. Being the hustler and boss that he is Cato can't walk away from an opportunity like this. Especially not when it is handed to him. But should he walk away and protect the woman in his life? Finally ready to walk down the aisle Kam and Ryanne are still #relationship goals but will they stay that way. Things never seem to stay the same but will they be able to keep up with the changes. Leon and Kay are the new couple on the block. Kay feels as if Leon is everything she ever wanted but isn't sure she deserves. Meanwhile Leon knows without a doubt that Kay is the woman for him. Will she be able to get on board or will that ship sail? Mama Kat is looking to get her groove back and she may have found just the man to do it. But will he be able to be only her man? This is a family and just like family should they hold each other down but will holding each other down be enough?

Sixteen years have passed since we last visited Karma Alonso-Walker. After Money's conviction for attempted murder of their son, Karma turned back to her first love of track and field. Newfound fame, fortune and love has given her a fresh outlook on life, but no matter how hard she tries to forget the past, it always finds a way to remind her of her indiscretions. And when Money is released from prison, Karma's world is turned upside down once again, forcing her to come to face to face with the beast that has burdened her for more than half a decade.

Za'Kai and Takari have what it takes to be relationship goals in Miami. It's almost hard to believe that the two of them haven't known each other their whole lives because they seem to just click. They're compatible, but the question is, will it work? This is a woman walked straight out of a marriage and jumped into something very serious with Za'Kai. Za'Kai, on the other hand, hasn't been in a serious relationship with anyone in years, so he wants this relationship to work with Takari more than anything, but how much is he willing to sacrifice for it? These two lovers already have kids of their own and somewhat of a life outside of each other, so are they willing to take on another load, which is their undying commitment to each other? In the final installment of Love Me, find out if Za'Kai and Takari can make this love thing be the magical ending that they both so rightfully deserve.

21-year-old Karma is everything a man could want. Or so she thought. She has her own money, her own crib, and she has overcome things that most people couldn't. Even with all of that she can't seem to get her boyfriend, Derek, to act right. Her final straw is him cheating on her for the umpteenth time and she's done and lets him out of her life. It's time for a change and her and her best friend, Rynne, are going to make it happen. Cato is THAT nigga. The nigga that every woman wants and every nigga envies. He is used to getting what he wants and he doesn't expect that to change anytime soon. Not even after serving time in jail. He comes into contact with Karma once and just has to have her. The only thing is...she's not like most women. She challenges him to make her feel special and be his one and only. The two are being tugged at by their crazy exes and the people in their friends' lives. Will the two wind up together? Or will their past keep them from happiness?

In part 3 of the dramatic Never Again, No More Series, Trinity, LaMeka, Lucinda, and Charice are back with brand new drama. Although they seem to have escaped their pasts, they find out saying never again, no more is easier said than done. Trinity has moved on with her first love, Terrence, and has seemingly left all her troubles behind. However, when you have a past named Pooch, it can and will come back with a vengeance. After LaMeka barely escaped the death grip Tony had on her, her life has truly come full circle. However, she fears her sordid past is not distant enough to fully embrace her new lease on life—and then again, neither is Tony. Weathering storms is one battle that Lucinda is used to, but when she falls in love with Aldris, those stormy days are a thing of her past. That is until Aldris's past delivers them a shocking surprise. She'll find out weathering storm isn't the problem; it's surviving it. Charice and Ryan have moved on . . . together. It is a marriage of pure love and pure bliss, until Lincoln shows up, determined to prove that it is a marriage of pure lies. Slowly but surely, these ladies' past trials begin to stir up trouble in their current situations. The karma is brewing, and new hot tea is prepared to be served by way of former lovers, love children, and deeply rooted secrets. What will happen when the women and men are forced to face the drama they've stirred?

Logic and Joy are back in the finale of Where My Loyalties Lie. We once again see that Logic is faced with dealing with the drama of the streets. Many questions must be answered. Will Rah and Moses get their just due or will Logic and Gotti go down in a hail of gunfire from the wheels set in motion by a blinded naive woman? Will Joy's parents finally become real parents and embrace the love they should have for their child? Will Najah and Gotti find that everlasting love that they've witnessed blossom between Joy and Logic? Will Nova ever get it right? All of these questions and more will be answered when you take this last ride with the crew. Strap up and hang on because the question of Loyalties will be answered and cemented in the annals of romance history. With a love so perfectly imperfect, Logic finally finds the answer that has eluded him his entire life: Logic's Joy brings him a peace that passes all understanding and unequivocally answers that long awaited question: Where My Loyalties Lie.

battle to date; however, she doesn't know that enemies are lurking to handle what the court of law may not. Will Talia walk away with her freedom, only to have her life taken, or will she once again beat all odds and come out unscathed and victorious? Marsean is fighting for his family, Talia, and their unborn baby. There are no limits to the lengths that Marsean will go to protect what is his. Marsean is stretched in many different directions. With enemies jumping out of every corner, there is no way that Marsean can be everywhere for everyone all the time. However, Marsean will show the world how and why he is The Plug in the finale. No stone will be left unturned to expose and eliminate all possible threats to his family. Toxin is fighting for his empire. He knew he would be tested; he just never expected his comrades to be caught in the crossfire. With a heavy, guilt-filled heart, Toxin sets out for revenge and vindication. He is determined to set an example for anyone who thinks they can rise against him. Shonda is fighting for her respect. She is aware of the stigma that you can't turn a h*@ into a housewife, but she refuses to accept that as her reality. Shonda has learned her worth and refuses to let anyone take that from her. Will she get side-tracked when she catches feelings for the plug?

The first three novels of the Dan Sharp mystery series, winner of the Lambda Award for best gay mystery Collected into a single volume, the Lambda-award winning Dan Sharp series by Jeffrey Round follows a gay father and missing persons investigator as he weaves from upper-class enclaves to the seedy underbelly of Southern Ontario. Dan Sharp, missing persons investigator, has his hands full. His partner, Bill, is dodgy about commitment and loves to taunt Dan about his lurid past. His son, Kedrick, is the shifting centre of his world, a weak spot in his hardboiled life, and a serious complication in his relationships. And then there's the work. A wedding guest is swept off a yacht and vanishes beneath the waves, but the wrong person ends up reported missing. In Toronto, someone is murdering sex offenders. And why is a son still searching for man who left a suicide note - and six dead horses - when he disappeared, twenty years ago? A chance meeting in a bar sends missing persons investigator Dan Sharp in search of a woman presumed dead in the Tiananmen Square Massacre. But there may be international consequences and big players in a mystery that spans two continents. "Such devotion to his work makes Rounds writing absorbing for readers. You sympathize with Sharp, even as he falls into a whiskey-drenched hell, and you wait for him to rise again." - Xtra! "The writing is raw, the emotions are taut and author Jeffrey Round brings it together in a breathtaking conclusion." - Hamilton Spectator "Jeffrey Round is the gay Margaret Atwood!" - Luba Goy, Comedian Includes Lake on the Mountain Pumpkin Eater The Jade Butterfly

The things that Jashae has undergone in months is equivalent to a lifetime of pain, heartbreak, and turmoil for the average person. Some may even wonder how she's still able to cope with life. How is it that this woman hasn't lost her sanity yet? With this new revelation regarding Trip's daughter, Maya, Jashae is once again caught in a world of hurt and confusion. She has every right to feel angry, betrayed, and let down, but in the end, this is a child. An innocent child who has already been neglected and mistreated. What's a woman to do for a child who doesn't share her bloodline but has the same bloodline as Giovonte? Jashae's back is definitely against the wall, and this is a decision that she not only has to make for herself, but she has to consider Miami's feelings as well. Then, we have Mahogany and Jabari. Two adults who have jumped headfirst into love and are on the verge of becoming new parents. I think we can all agree that we're rooting for these two. Preparing for a new baby and taking a chance on love is transformational for them both. It's still fresh, so when an ex from Jabari's past pops up, can she slowly destroy this union before it really gets started? Can things about Jabari and his ex be enough for Mahogany to bow out, or will she stand her ground in Jabari's life and stay down with him no matter what?
