Madeline, Miss Clavel, Pepito, and friends introduce basic manners.

When the Spanish ambassador moves in next door, Madeline and the rest of the twelve little girls discover that his son is not the best neighbor.

With everyone else sick in bed with a cold on Christmas Eve, it is up to Madeline to run the school and she finds a remarkable helper in a rug-selling magician.

The orphan Madeline catches a thief and makes a friend in Rome.

Madeline of Paris continues her adventures in this story of manners-now in Step into Reading, the premier leveled reader line. Madeline is hosting a fabulously dainty tea party. The girls are neatly dressed and on time. Then her naughty friend Pepito arrives late, and havoc ensues! A good friend like Madeline helps Pepito realize the power of an apology--a great conversation started for children. This easy-to-read book is written in rhyme, and there are full-color illustrations throughout in the same charming style as the classic Madeline books. Step 2 Readers use basic vocabulary and short sentences to tell simple stories, for children who recognize familiar words and can sound out new words with help. Rhyme and rhythmic text paired with picture clues help children decode the story.

After happily exploring garbage cans in the streets of Paris and pulling fish from the river, Genevieve, the puppy belonging to Madeline and the other orphans, receives an unwanted bath.

Madeline and the other eleven little girls have a new destination- the White House. They are the guests of Candle, the lonely daughter of the president, arriving just in time for the annual Easter Egg Roll. On the last night of their visit, Madeline and Candle stay up late playing dress-up, dancing, and telling scary stories. They top off the evening with a magic carpet ride to see the sights of Washington, courtesy of Madeline's old friend the Magician, who has tagged along on the visit.

Based on characters created by Bemelmans, this charming new Madeline title was written by Ludwig's grandson and explores Madeline's take on etiquette. Illustrations.

Madeline and the other girls travel to London to visit their former neighbor on his birthday.

The always be polite book.
